* part one

I have already woken up it is five forty six and fifty one seconds in the morning chicago standard time sunrise after seven january I plan to go to the mississippi and there was fog yesterday to appreciate

there is neon in thessalonia literal

like miami neon

and whether the thessalonians participated in the first olympics in two hundred bc bce naked like the athenians

and the prethessalonians were or were not part of the spartan consortium as the presocratics [circa]

having grown through gravity and trees

the dangling vines and there were a weeping willow the partial struck by a tornado say the forest and say the clearing [within] a vines are climbable as a child to act like a monkey to bounce on a vine [some collapse] [some fall from the symbiont [host] [question] tree with a weight]

that which hangs
the vine from above and a sounds an ornithological sounds the ambient silence of a forest the vine hangs from a tree branch

the boughs of a weeping willow every branch a dangling of leaves near to the soil in which the sturdy main trunk like a walnut tree there are ticks in the weeping part of weeping willows arachnid ticks tiny ticks is which the weeping willow is not climbed ticks suck blood from mammals ticks suck blood from aves ticks suck blood from riparians gets fat until the tick decides to let go with its teeth from the host were the tick to stay too long upon the host sucking blood the tick would bloat and burst and die the tick lets go just in time
I do not know how the tick reclaims the weeping willow

ivy vines grow from the soil and creep upward upon a stone wall gravitropism a seeds are grown from the soil a seed inherently knows to find the surface for phototropism [then]

uncle carney and the horse show around the merry go round center with children on the backs of the horses four feet tall each having paid four token tickets to the ticket woman at seventy five cents per ticket and cotton candy and the sun goes down uncle carney moves to the dart booth as specified in his contract and [this time] there was a balloon air filler upper so he was not required to inflate the balloons with his own lungs and the biggest prize the three foot stuffed elephant colored purple and white and the entry level prize the plastic compass the size of a cracker jack prize

I learned carnies dull the ends of darts so darts bounce off the balloons instead of popping them and the four ticket ride inwhich everyone stands inside of a circle with their backs to the circle and the circle spins fast and the floor drops away and everyone is centrifugaled to the wall until the floor returns and the ride slows and all get off dizzy the livestock pavillion with the future farmers of america with groomed animals and anyone can bring their livestock with proper registration papers last years' [what do you know for sure] there were cows

there were big horses there were little horses there were chickens in cages with plumes watched by future farmers not yet old enough to be farmers there were rabbits in cages being watched by future farmers of America there were goats and straw on the ground for the goats being watched by 4h there were future farmers on the ground with straw there was a future farmer with an electric trimmer saloning with hair product a straight line on the back hair of a guernsey being watched by another future farmer may cool eventually and a hardened earthly core may or may not make a difference to the surface of the earth liquid rock as cooled called volcanic rock is digested by tree roots and botanical roots over millions of years and becomes palatable and nutritive for farming though as six feet of cinder topsoil cannot hold water and most botanical roots would topple in the sandy growing environment as a matter of one or two species of plants capable of growing in the harsh soil there is no sustainable ecosystem for accompanying animals until one million years from now liquid rocks are too hot to touch

[and liquid rocks which have cooled may be very pointy and painful to touch and are slow walking upon because of their once bubbled liquid composition now the cooled liquid rock bubbles are frozen as hard cooled rock bubbles as lava fields other cinder fields of a varied lava form spewn from a volcano may be similar to sand at the surface of the earth called cinder field though unique from lava field inthat a lava field is one giant rock spanning many square miles
